The Clarke Counterfeiting Onco-The Pricence Counted on Three Counte.

Before Judge Benedict.

The United States vs. Robert B. Clarks.—The trial of this case was resumed yesterday, but was brought to a rather precipitate ending in consequence of testimony unexpected by the prisoner's able seemsel being introduced. The defendant, a middle seed person of very respectable and gentlemanly appearance, was formerly colonel of the Brooklyn Pourteenth regiment, N. G., with whom he served in the war of the rebellion. In October of last year was implicated in some serious counterfeiting sphemes with professional counterfeiters, and, as the was implicated in some serious counterfeiting chemes with professional counterfeiters, and, as gual in such cases, was "peached" upon by his conderates, whe were first uspected and arrested. From that the efforts of his influential friends failing in admitted to bail. The trial came up of critical plast, Clarke being defended by Messrs. Fultrion of the course of the proceedings one witness swore that Clarke suborned him to appear on the trial of his case and to support the theory he had based his defence upon, and of which he had instructed hid sounsel, who believed all his statements and representations in that connection, but who were desired the winness from time to time, charging him with the course of what he should swear to on the trial, were put in evidence, falling like a bembshell him the counsel, who a believe the trial of the winness from time to time, charging him with the counsel, who are the work of the process of the p

Before Judge Ingraham. hantes' Banking Association vs. The Mar apany.—This is an action for damages leges to have been sustained by the plaintiffs be-473 shares of the stock of the defendants here had been an injunction issued restraining from such transfer, which injunction the plaintiffs claimed had been removed. Nevertheless the defendants refused to transfer the stock on the ground, as they claimed, that the injunction was still in force, and that other parties had claims against the stock in question. The stock at the time rated in the market at 55% and at the transfer its quoted at only 11% percent. Messrs. P. & F. Jordan had deposited, it seems, this stock as colsteral security with the plaintiffs and when called upper a slight of the deposited to make good the loan, and in this way the plaintiffs became owners of the stock. The chief point at issue is the legality of the demand. Being a simple question of law it is being tried without a try. A large number of witnesses were called. The

SUPREME COURT-CHAMBERS.

The Old Story of Matrimonial Infelicities. Before Judge Cardozo.

Mary Cantrell vs. Samuel Cantrell.—This is an acne time since it was ordered before a referee o has had several sittings and exemined a large number of witnesses, which latter proceedings, it was claimed, were inaugurated and prosecuted y an injunction order to stay proceedings was on the referee and on the plain-and her counsel. Default had been against the defendant. The matter and her counsel. Default had been against the defendant. The matter same up on a motion to open the default and for costs. Fully two hours were occupied by the opposing counsel in their arguments and reading affidavits. For the defendant it was claimed and affidavits submitted in support of it, that he had already treated her with the greatest kindness, and from his yeur carnings amply provided for the wants of herself and their three children; that she brought this pain at the instance of counsel; that she had since been reconciled to him and expressed a desire to disponutione the proceedings. On the other side it was alleged that the latter statements were wholly false, and on the subject of crueity numerous instances are given of his bruilaity—once striking her in the restibule of wallack's theater, once throwing a pitcher of water over her and once kicking her out of bed and then pounding and choking her when she was out. Instead of supporting her it was claimed that he had lived in kileness upon her means, when it came down to the bill of costs it was swerred on his behalf that his income from real sattet was only about $1,500 a year, while the contrary side asserted $5,00 as his income. There was a cool deal of sparring between counsel, which was a cool deal of sparring between counsel, which was a cool deal of sparring between counsel, which was a cool deal of sparring between counsel, which was a cool deal of sparring between counsel, which was a cool deal of sparring between counsel, which was a cool of the first, $150 to the first, $150 to the first, $150 to the first and the contrary side asserted $5,00 as his income. There was a cool deal of sparring between counsel, which was a cool deal of sparring between counsel, which was a cool deal of sparring between counsel, which was a cool of the state of the same that can gallop over three dwill in two minutes. He intends to purchase the will never take him to wominutes. He intends to purchase the will never take him to a good rider. The "hoss" is not a estate was only about $1,500 a year, while the con-trary side asserted $5,000 as his moome. There was a good deal of sparring between counsel, which was with considerable fulficulty restrained by the Judge. The Judge teek the papers and reserved his deci-tion.

McGuire Case.

The People ex rei. Stemmler vs. McGuire.—In this pass, a continuance of the contest as to the election of Justice in the Seventh Judicial district, a motion was made for leave to file a supplemental answer and examine the plaintiff previous to trial, and also to get the list of his witnesses. After hearing the argament of opposing counsel the Judge took the papers.

NAVAL INTELLIGENCE.

Mevements of the European Squadron-A Alajority of the Vessels to Winter in the Mediterraneau-The Frolic to Come to New York.

Wilson, which has for some time been cruising on the Pishing Banks looking out for the interests of our large fishing fleet in that quarter of the coast, is now lying up at the Washington Ravy Yard, under-going some repairs preparatory to returning to New York to again become Rear Admiral Stringham's diag-ship. The Prolie is not an economical craft for cruis-ing purposes, as she can only go under steam, at a pretty heavy expenditure of coal, an teen of expense not favorably looked upon just now by the Savy Department. Hence the propriety of retaining her in harbor as a guardalin, for which she is well adapted, as she can steam rapidly and overhant any vessel that may attempt to exade the neutrality laws. The Fronce will doubtless he sent to this port at the earliest noment in order to relieve the Guerriere and Narraganset, which are to be despatched to foreign stations as poon as possible. The Guerriere, Captain Thomas H. Stevens, will be sent, it is raid, to the European squadron, and the Narraganset, tientenant Commander George Dewey, will be despatched to the Booth Alautic or Brasilian squadron. Bota ships are to make their best way to their respective stations under sail alone. The gunbout Saco, three guns, Lieutenant Commander William Terry, was at dibraiter on the 11th low, bound fato the Mediterrant on a winter's since.

Al the European squadron, excepting the dagship Franklin and the corvette annuala, will probably winter in the Mediterrantean, as cruming in the Dannet and Atlantic is dangerous and useless during the cold, stormy months; gad, besides, they would steam most of the time. The Franklin, peninoder C. P. R. Redgars, will probably raturn to the United States early in the spring, and go, out of commission. pretty heavy expenditure of coal, an stem of ex

MILITARY CHIT-CHAT.

It would appear that the result of the Ninth regiment inspection has raised quite a breeze in military circles, judging from the communications which have been sent to the HERALD in reference to the matter. The writers of these communications com-plain very bitterly, as military men, that the In-spector General should have countenanced by his presence, even though it was not official, such a "frand" as they claim the inspection was. The charge of fraud against the N.nth is based, according to them, on the fact that men who were not ma Ade members of the regiment were enabled, bona Me members of the regiment were enabled, thanks to the darkness which prevailed at the latter part of the inspection, to be counted as members. Judging from the rumors that are flying about concerning the inspection of the Ninth, the complaints that come from all sides in the First division concerning it, and many other things in relation to it which have come to light, it is pretty certain that the inspection was not what it ought to have been. It is a fact beyond dispute that Major Wentworth went through the farce of inspecting certain companies when it had become too called come to a "carry," or to see what men called come to a "carry," or to see what men answered when each man's maney was called. Besides, several men were musicred in clinical besides, several men were musicred in clinical besides, several men were before members of another regiment, in the face of the fact that the the regiment, in the face of the fact that the control week before members of another regiment, and the regiment of the first duvision should be a rule by which all regiments of the first duvision should be redicted affect. There is one thing about the inspection, however, which cannot be denied. The figures of the first duvision should be are official, and there is no way of getting behind them without impeaching the good faith of the inspecting of sicer, so those who feel aggreeved by them should find out some melhod prescribed by the first of the figures at all the facility of the themselved on the first of the incined of the second of freeling exists in the Seventh regiment, it is said, allowed himself to be mustered under the name of Crawford in one of the companies of the Ninth topies over their est total, and yet one of the members of the companies of the Ninth topies its captain. Certainly the Seventh owes it to itself, if this be true, to take this inspection bull by the horns. Perhaps Lieutenant Barrington might be able to draw up the necessary papers. Imspections of the militia, as the Herakib has again and again reterated, have always been, to a certain degree, an expensive comedy for the State; but there is a limit even to laughable farces, and that its who have it is almost against against the Ninth to true the ascent the parties who make them take the proper measure of the militia, and that it will be the "Shandley Guard," which has been lately formed in the Seventh ward, Inasmuch as it is soot strong, and largely composed of veterans of the late war, it should be welcomed with open arms. Its colonel is General willinson. If we have the company the proper in the state of the regim horses that up to the time of cleshing the entries had never beaten 2:50—2:300 to the first, $150 to the second and $50 to the third horse. For this there are entered M. Whipple's chestnut mare Angeline, M. L. Mott's brown stallion Independent, G. Truesdaie's gray gelding Lottery, John Rogers' brown mare Pownai Mare, John Murphy's brown gelding James H. Coleman, John Lovett's chestnut stallion Toronto Uniet, Jr., Pierce Haydeu's bay gelding M. T. Brennan, E. L. Hall's bay stellion Lincoln and W. E. Weeks' black gelding Eight Beils.

The second event will be a purse of $1,000, for horses that have never trotted better than 2:39—5700 to the first, $200 to the second and $100 to the third. This has eight entries:—W. H. Borst's chestnut mare Josephine, H. J. Beach's gray gelding Jack, A. C. Whitson's black gelding Frank, John Lovett's brown gelding Young Branc, M. Barrett's chestnut gelding George Smith, Dan Pfiter's bay mare (no name), John Rogers' brown mare Pownai Mare, and Dan-Macc's brown gelding Frank. Both races will be mile heats, best three in five, in harness.

In the pools the brown gelding Jack in the second race are favorites against the field.

HORSE NOTES.

Mr. W. Buford, son of General A. Buford, of Kentucky, informed us at the Pimilco Race Course, on Saturday last, that the race horse Enquirer, the winner of the Kenner Stakes at Saratoga and other prominent races last summer, was not injured to the extent reported in the papers. He struck himself lightly in one of his gallops, after which he was taken out of training, but not on account of any in jury that he had sustained. General Buford will have the horse entered in all the four-year old events next summer, and he concluded to take him out of training and let him recuperate for the coming evenis.

Mr. Sanford's two-year-old bay filly Madame Dud-Wr. Sanford's two-year-old bay filly Madame Dudley, in her race at Baitimore on Saturday last, astonished the raceling men laugely by running a mile in 148, with 104 pounds up. The time was equalled on the same day by My Maryland, a three-year-old, carrying eighty-six pounds. Here was a two-year-old not only giving a three-year old eighteen pounds, but when we take into consideration that a two-year old should only carry sevenly-five pounds and a three-year-old ninety-five pounds, it makes the two-year-old thirty-eight pounds better than the three-year. Now, then, suppose a handicapper should at any time impose that weight on a two-year-old, what would be thought of him by the racing public? This of itself shows the fallacy of bandicapping horses in this country. Weight for age is the only time way of running horses. Put a steadying weight on all of them, and let the best horse win.

We see that the trotters American Girl and George Palmer are matched for $1,000, mile heats, sest three in five, in harness, the race to come off at Prospect Park Fair Grounds on Thursday next. This should be a great trot, as the horses are as closely matched in point of speed as any in the Circuit Court for SENTENCED TO DRATH.—In the Circuit Court for Prince George's country, Maryland, on the 26th ult. Mary Wallis, colored, was tried and convicted of the murder of Albert D., infant son of Albert M. Reed, by boisoning with strychnine, in July last. Judge Breat sentenced the girl to be hanged at such time as the Governor may designate. The Prince Georgian says of the trial and its result:—"The counsel for the accused, Judge Berty and Daniel Clarke, in a masterly manner sitted the entire evidence with their acknowledged skill. They presented every politating circumstance connected therewith to the jury, and closed their argument with a beautiful and touching appeal for morey. The jury retired and remained one about fifty immutely, and returned with a verdict of murder in the first degree. The prisoner during the delivery of the verdet did not evince any emotion whatever, but seemed to be outsely ignorant of, the dark doom that awaits her. Her youth and extince appeals, as evanced in the criminal box while in dergoing this severe ordeal, would suggest a want of mind sufficient to warriant a conviction. But the extreme legal accume displayed by both the prosectation and defence and the remarkably intelligent jury a manchied in this estate are sufficient grarantics of the worldex.
